

Mrs. Wilson Facing Loss Of Passport

By United Press International

Informed sources say the State Department has decided to revoke the passport of Mrs. Dagmar Wilson of Washington for making an unauthorized trip to North Vietnam last month.

A letter advising her of the action was expected to go out today, the source said. Mrs. Wilson, a leader in the Women's Strike for Peace Movement, went to Hanoi with two other members of the group, Mrs. Mary Clarke, of Los Angeles and Mrs. Ruth Krause, of Englewood, N.J.

The department still is gathering evidence necessary before it can act on the cases of Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Krause.

The State Department, meanwhile, disclosed that during the last three years the passports of 28 U.S. citizens have been revoked for traveling to North Vietnam without securing the Special Department validation necessary.
